

Pinnacle Recovery, Inc. Named Winner of 2015 “Best Places to Work in Collections” Award

November 2, 2015

Pinnacle Recovery is pleased to announce that it was recently named one of the Best Places to Work in Collections for 2015.

“We are extremely proud to have earned this distinction, and owe the honor to the contributions of our entire team,” said Pinnacle’s President, Margaret Eardley. “We believe that our ability to successfully serve clients begins with our commitment to focusing on employee training, development and well-being.”

Established by insideARM and administered by the Best Companies Group, the Best Places to Work in Collections awards program identifies, recognizes and honors the best places of employment in the accounts receivable management (ARM) industry as determined through a two-part survey process which evaluates the policies, practices, philosophy, systems, demographics and employee experiences of top companies nationwide.

For more information on the Best Places to Work in Collections program, visit <http://www.insidearm.com/features/best-places-to-work/>