

Matthew C. Boomhower, Esq., AIA

Southern Cross Property Consultants

Matthew is the founder and president of Southern Cross Property Consultants (SCPC) a construction management and land-use consulting firm based in San Diego. Matthew is a California licensed Architect with a Bachelor of Architecture degree from the University of Tennessee. Matthew holds a license as an Attorney in California and received his Juris Doctor degree from California Western School of Law. In addition to his work with SCPC, he maintains a boutique law practice at Boomhower Law, APC where he focuses on land-use and construction law and serves as outside counsel to closely held businesses.

In 2019 Matthew was appointed to a four-year term on the City of San Diego Planning Commission. He currently serves on the San Diego Zoological Society Foundation's Charitable Real Estate Committee, which advises the Foundation Board on the acceptance of real estate gifts and is a Vice-Chair of the San Diego Regional Chamber of Commerce's Transportation & Land Development policy sub-committee.

More information about Matthew is available at:
<http://www.linkedin.com/in/matthewboomhower>